Overview

In January 2012, High School had 87 students participate in the Campus Life Point Break program. ${ }^{1}$ Point Break is a one-day intervention program developed by Campus Life ${ }^{2}$ that is designed to improve the relational climate of participating high schools and improve student Attitudes, Behaviors, and Values (ABVs) in a variety of areas that are important to maintaining a healthy school climate. Schools that participate in the Point Break program receive a School Climate Evaluation, which is provided through a partnership between Campus Life and Biddle Consulting Group, Inc. (BCG). ${ }^{3}$

The School Climate Evaluation is completed by administering a three-part survey to students that evaluates their viewpoints regarding the school's inclusiveness in the education process and content (Section 1), bullying and harassment (Section 2), and relational climate among students (Section 3). This survey was administered to 460 students in December, 2011 during classroom time. In February 2012, BCG completed the analyses and summarized the results in this report.

Surveys

The School Climate Evaluation survey includes 170 multiple-choice questions provided in three sections: (1) equity and inclusive education (56 questions); (2) bullying/harassment, including discrimination and sexual harassment among students (60 questions); and (3) the Relational Climate Profile (RCP), which includes 49 questions measuring the Attitudes, Beliefs, and Values (ABVs) of students on a variety of schoolrelated topics.

The RCP section of the survey has been used in multiple high schools for conducting research related to the Point Break program conducted by Campus Life. The nine $A B V$ s measured by the RCP include:

1. Bullying/teasing
2. Willingness to reach for help
3. Gossiping
4. Openness of expression
5. Judging others
6. Valuing others
7. Having empathy towards others
8. Having a hopeful life outlook
9. Violence/Harassment
[^0]A copy of the survey is provided in Attachment A.

Data Building Procedures

Because teenage survey respondents are sometimes more prone to respond randomly than other populations, special care was taken to reduce the survey population by screening out possible random (or intentionally disingenuous) responders. This involved screening out survey records that included response options (A-E) that are not available (or logical) for questions on the survey (e.g., responding with " C " when the only options provided by the survey were "A" or "B"). In addition, the RCP section of the survey included a pair of validity questions that was used for identifying random responders. This process reduced the total number of students who completed the surveys from 460 to 343 .

Scantron surveys and Microsoft Excel were used for capturing survey response data and SPSS ${ }^{4}$ was used for all data building and analysis work. The SPSS Syntax that was used for the analysis process is provided in Attachment B.

Survey Section 3: Relationship Climate Profile (RCP)

The Relational Climate Profile (RCP) includes 49 questions measuring the Attitudes, Beliefs, and Values (ABVs) of students on a variety of school-related topics. Forty-seven of the questions are mapped onto nine Attitudes, Behavior, and Value scales (two of the survey questions are validity questions designed to detect and remove random responders):

1. Bullying/teasing
2. Willingness to reach for help
3. Gossiping
4. Openness of expression
5. Judging others
6. Valuing others
7. Having empathy towards others
8. Having a hopeful life outlook
9. Violence/Harassment

In addition to the nine separate scales, the 47 questions are summed to create a "combined, overall" score for each student. The overall reliability of this combined scale is provided below.

Reliability Statistics

|  | Cronbach's  Alpha Based  on |  |
| ---: | ---: | ---: |
| Cronbach's  Alpha | Standardized  Items | N of Items |
| .892 | .894 | 47 |

A Cronbach's reliability of .892 is exceptionally high. This shows a high degree of internal consistency of the items on the survey.

The descriptive statistics for each RCP survey question is provided in the following table. Note that each question was recoded in the desirable direction. For example, the question "I frequently tease or bully other people" was reverse coded so that higher ratings were given lower values, and vice versa.

Note that females scored significantly higher than males on the Bullying, Willingness to Reach for Help, Valuing Others, Empathy, and on the Overall Violence/Harassment Scale (which consists of Bullying and Gossiping combined). We find it interesting that females significantly outperformed males on each scale where a significant difference was observed,. They also scored significantly higher than males on the Overall RCP score. These differences were especially pronounced on the Empathy scale, where females scored substantially higher.

Implications

The results of this study provide useful information to High School staff regarding the students' school environment. This information is crucial to ensure that the students benefit as much as possible from the education system offered by the school. We suggest repeating this survey process annually after instituting interventions where improvements are desired in the various factors measured by this survey.

The results of this study may also serve as a useful background regarding the Point Break program, which has previously demonstrated a significant impact in the Gossip, Empathy, and Overall Score measured by the RCP. (This report has been provided in Attachment C). Point Break may be one effective tool (in addition to others) to specifically improve the areas noted in this report (e.g., Empathy).

Attachment A: School Climate Survey

A Survey for Students in Grades 9 to 12 About:  - Equity and Inclusive Education  - Bullying/Harassment  - Attitudes, Beliefs, and Values

Thank you for agreeing to complete this survey. We believe all schools need to be safe and welcoming places so that students can feel comfortable enough to learn and socialize. We would like to know to what degree our students feel safe and comfortable at your high school.

The purpose of this school climate survey is to find out about three closely related issues - (1) equity and inclusive education; (2) bullying/harassment, including discrimination and harassment, among students; and (3) your attitudes, beliefs, and values on a variety of school-related topics.

Equity and inclusive education is a fundamental belief in our high school. An inclusive education system is one in which:

- all students, parents, school staff, and other members of the school community are welcomed and respected;
- every student is supported and inspired to succeed in a culture of high expectations for learning.

When students exhibit discriminatory behaviors (including bullying and harassment) towards other students, they are often reacting to perceived differences (stereotypes), and do not realize that diversity is one of a school's greatest assets. Bullying and harassment are hurtful, and therefore unacceptable, behaviors that are never tolerated in a climate of respect and acceptance.

In the first section of this survey, you will be asked questions about how you feel about your school, whether you feel welcome and comfortable participating in school events and on school teams and clubs, and whether you are learning about the experiences of various groups in society. In the second section, you will read about various types of bullying/ harassment, and you will be asked questions about incidents of bullying/harassment that may have occurred in your school and about circumstances connected with such incidents. In the third section, you will be asked about your attitudes, beliefs, and values on a variety of school-related topics.

This information will be reviewed by parents, teachers, students and administrators to help promote and sustain a school climate of respect, safety, tolerance, and belonging for all students.

Forms That Bullying/Harassment Might Take

Actions meant to hurt someone's feelings or devalue them are bullying/harassing behaviors. Bullying is a form of harassment. Throughout this section, we will be using "bullying/harassment" to refer to behaviors such as saying hurtful things to someone about their appearance or ability, posting disrespectful comments about someone online, hurting someone by physical actions, or treating someone badly or making a point of excluding them because of who they are. Such behaviors are often directed repeatedly against the same person or group, and they can happen on or off school grounds.

Different forms and types of bullying/harassment are described on the following pages. The information provided will help you answer the questions in this section.

Physical

- pushing, tripping, hitting
- damaging or stealing someone's property

Verbal

- name-calling, hurtful teasing
- insulting, humiliating, or threatening someone

Social

- excluding someone from "the group" or from an activity
- gossiping or spreading rumours about someone
- making someone look foolish
- making sure others don't associate with someone
- displaying images or materials that are offensive or disrespectful

Electronic

using the Internet or a cell phone to e-mail or send text messages or pictures in order to threaten someone or hurt their feelings, single them out, embarrass them, or make them look bad, or spread rumors or reveal secrets about them

Racial/ethnocultural

- treating someone badly because of their culture, racial or ethnic background, or the colour of their skin
- saying negative things about someone's race, culture, ethnic background, or skin colour
